Among his many high profile cases were the Patricia Hearst Kidnapping (1974-75), the Chowchilla, California kidnapping of a bus load of school children (1976), the Rev. Jim Jones Peoples' Temple mass suicide of 913 members (1978), the Walker/Whitworth espionage case where classified information was sold to the Soviet Union (1986); the Freeman Montana case (1996); and the Theodore John Kaczynski Unibomber case (1996).

Kyle Young (Class of 2017) Cherry Hill West High School

A 1992 graduate, Young was a three-time District 27 Champion, a two-time Region 7 Champion and a three-time state qualifier. As a sophomore, Young fell ill after qualifying in the region tournament and had to withdraw from the state tournament. The following year, Young moved up to 112 pounds but dropped his pre-quarterfinal match and his first wrestleback and did not place. As a senior at 119 pounds, Young had his best finish at the NJSIAA State Tournament. He began his run to the finals by winning by fall over Bernie Tennant of Absegami in 3:54 in the pre-quarterfinals, winning by fall over Washington Township's Mike Sandelier in 2:43 in the quarterfinals and then capped off the semifinals by once again winning by fall over Passaic Valley's Anthony Gencarelli in 5:42. Not quite able to overcome Doug Detrick of Warren Hills, in the finals, Young took the silver medal and completed his high school career with a 92-20 record. Upon graduation, Young enrolled in Southern Connecticut State College. Once again, Young demonstrated his mat prowess by winning the Coast Guard Tournament, the Old Bridge Collegiate bracket at 135 pounds and finished as a bronze medalist in the college's regional qualifier for the National Tournament in '94. Though Young did not earn All-American status, his desire to continue in the sport took shape in the form of coaching, where after college he aided by coaching wrestlers at his high school alma mater as a volunteer as his time permitted. A resident of Philadelphia, Young decided to try his hand coaching closer to his home, and in 2014 he agreed to coach for free at Roman Catholic Parochial High School. Facing a daunting challenge in the basketball mecca of Philadelphia, Young's team won only two matches during his first year, but improved each year after he began coaching there. In 2015, Young took over as the school's head coach. After only three years under Young's tutelage, Roman Catholic had the school's first individual Public Catholic League Champion who also won District 12 Championship honors. In 2017 his team made the playoffs for the first time since 2008 and qualified 8 wrestlers for the Region Tournament. The same team produced the first 2 wrestlers to ever qualify for the Pennsylvania State Tournament in Hershey, Pennsylvania. Young delights in seeing the improvement his team has made, and has enjoyed seeing the team, which won only 2 matches his first year, improve its record to a season which produced 15 victories in 2017. Young cites his success at Roman Catholic as a most memorable moment in his wrestling career. A personal highlight of Young's came during the semifinals of the '92 NJSIAA State Tournament; trailing 10-6 to Anthony Gencarelli (Passaic Valley), Young hit a throw which produced a victory by fall and propelled him into the state finals. Single, Young lives in Philadelphia and works there as an IT consultant for the Franklin Recruitment Group.

Todd P. Young (Class of 2003)
Haddon Township High School

A 1987 graduate, Young started wrestling competitively in the 8th grade. He went on to wrestle for Hall of Famer Miller Preston. Young was a two-time Haddon Township Christmas Tournament champion, and a four-time District 28 and two-time Region 7 champion. After a third-place finish in the state tournament as a junior, he capped a 33-0 senior season and a 96-9-1 career by winning the 129-pound state championship in 1987. His team went 19-2 his senior year and won the South Jersey Group 2 championship. Young said his most memorable moment in wrestling was in the 119-pound finals in the 1985 Haddon Township Christmas Tournament. Losing 11-0 to Eastern's Mark Kelly midway through the second period, Young battled back before losing 12-11 but said the experience taught him more in six minutes than any practice, camp or match - to believe in inner strength and confidence and never give up. Young wrestled a year at Rider University before concentrating on studies and moving into the business world. He recently moved back to the area after spending nine years in San Diego, Calif. He intends to get involved again in wrestling as a volunteer coach for Haddonfield High School under his cousin Chuck Klaus.

Michael Zechman (Class of 2016) Woodbury High School

A 1997 graduate of Woodbury, Zechman won the Region 8 Championship as a freshman at 103 pounds, a feat which he considers one of the highlights in his wrestling career. At the state tournament that year ('94), Zechman dropped his first match to Aaron Taylor of Camden Catholic, then won his first wrestleback match by defeating Chris Biank of Governor Livingston, but bowed out of the tournament after suffering a second round setback to Brad Bauer of Lenape. Zechman's next trip to the state tournament came at 119 his junior year. After placing 2nd in both districts and regions to Jason Gardner of West Deptford, Zechman reeled off a 7-5 win over Steve Napolitano of Haddon Heights before dropping a close 1-0 decision to Aaron Taylor of Camden Catholic. Zechman entered the wrestlebacks, but lost a tough match to his South River opponent. After placing 3rd in both District 29 and Region 8, he found himself a state qualifier once again, and he made the most of it by winning by fall in 4:24 over Todd Trampe of Delsea, then following that win by decisions over Gary Mikolay of Lenape Valley (8-4) and Blair Tugman of Middletown (8-5). Having reached the finals after being the last-place qualifier in a very tough 119 pound weight class is another of Zechman's career highlights. Undaunted by his tough 9-8 state final loss to Russ Witt of Lacey, Zechman took his career record of 103-19 to TCNJ where he continued his success by winning the Nassau Open Tournament and the College of New Jersey Open Tournament. His collegiate career was cut short after accumulating a record of 27-9 due to a neck injury. Zechman left TCNJ to pursue a career in business, but made time to serve as an assistant coach before returning to college to earn BS and MS degrees from Wilmington University in 2012. Zechman's coaching career includes serving as an assistant at Sterling High School for two years, at Paul VI High School for four years and one year at Eastern High School before he began teaching and assisting at Cherokee High School. Still wanting the challenge wrestling had to offer in another area, Zechman became a varsity official in 2012 and is still active in officiating at several of the higher-end tournaments throughout South Jersey.

Alan E. Zellner (Class of 2005)
Williamstown High School

A 1968 graduate, Zellner compiled a 37-7-1 career record while winning two Highland Christmas Tournament titles and placing second in the state as a senior. Zellner was 3rd in District 30 as a sophomore and 2nd as a junior. As a senior, Zellner won the Outstanding Wrestler Award in District 30 and Region 4 on the way to winning the 148-pound title. After a 14-0 win in the district final and a first-period fall over Vineland's Dave Homiak in the regional final, Zellner won by fall in the state semifinal before losing by decision to Gary Markowski of Newton. A two-time All-Olympic Conference selection in wrestling who won 14 of his 20 matches by fall, Zellner scored a perfect 60 team points in dual meet competition. Zellner, his high school's "Underclassmen Athlete of the Year" in 1967, won seven varsity letters (two in football and baseball, three in wrestling). Zellner went on to Wilkes College where he compiled a 65-11 record and won three Middle Atlantic Conference championships (twice winning the Outstanding Wrestler Award). The 1972 Wilkes graduate was 4th in the NCAA College Division Nationals to gain All-American honors. He held the Wilkes record for most team points and most falls in a season, and most falls in a career, for 30 years. He was the head coach one year at Williamstown, five years at Kutztown University and at Wilkes from 1996 until retiring in 2003. A 32-year member of the National Wrestling Coaches Association, Zellner also served as a wrestling official from 1975-1984.

Andy Zuckerman (Class of 1993) Northern Burlington High School

A 1978 graduate, Zuckerman was a three-time district champion, a regional champion, a state champion in 1977 and a state runner-up in 1978. Zuckerman compiled an impressive 82-5-0 record in high school and later wrestled at Trenton State under Coach Dave Icenhower, where he had a modest 42-12 record. Zuckerman got his feet wet coaching in South Jersey at Pennsauken Tech before moving on to Pemberton Township High School. In seven years with Pemberton through 1993, Zuckerman coached 15 district, six sectional and one state champion. His teams have been ranked among the top 20 teams in South Jersey each year. He was selected District 25 Coach of the Year twice and had compiled a 74-43-2 coaching record through 1993. His most memorable moments in high school wrestling were winning the 1977 state championship and coaching his first state champ, Kemal Pegram in 1990. He coached Region 7 in the Garden State Games the summers of 1991 and 1992, where his team finished third and first, respectively.
